“ I teach lessons to low brass players at CCHS. Alex was not one of my lesson students but he was one of the most dedicated members of the band, someone who could not be overlooked by any of us. Alex was kind and considerate and very talented. He loved the Band and set a great example for all the students. I will never forget the sound of him playing his Bari Sax with our Concert Band. I looked forward to hearing him play and enjoyed talking to him about music. He really made a difference, a big impact on all of us. We were all blessed to know him. We all miss him every day.

“ Man, that man owed me a chess match after drilling me three times in twenty minutes. I was hoping to get it in the summer. lol.
On a rather serious note, when I saw him around his birthday while hanging with mutual friends of his mother's, I realized how special this man was. I am grateful for some of the things I learned while being around him, and although that was perhaps only my second meeting with him I am sad that he is gone. I wish saying that I am sorry for the family's loss of this tremendous human being was sufficient enough, but it isn't. There are no words to describe what has happened. He will be greatly missed.

“ My son was friends with him. When I was talking to my son about his grades, Alex told him "James you need to bring your grades up man. Do your work." He liked to joke around. My son and Alex were going to mow yards this summer to make a little extra cash to go have some fun.

“ Alex was one of the best teenagers I have met in many years. He was a bright, friendly, and gifted young man. Tanya and Keith you can be proud of the young man he was becoming. I'm so sorry my friends. I wish I could be there for you. He was so wonderful with Morgana, always willing to play with the little toddler who wouldn't leave him alone and I know he was like another big brother to her. He was loved by many, Morgan and I will always remember him. I love you all, Blessed Be my friends.

“ He was one of my best friends at Copperas Cove high school. We talked about everything and when any of his friends were down, he made us smile and laugh. He was a gift. There will be no one else like him. We send much love from Copperas Cove. I will cherish the drawing he gave me back in 9th grade. I pray for him and for you, his family. Many of his friends may not make it, but we have our memories. We'll visit the burial site one day.
