

Joyce Walton

December 10, 1944 - May 30, 2026

To Remember Me...

The day will come when my body will lie upon a white sheet, neatly tucked under four corners of a mattress located in a hospital busily occupied with the living and the dying.
At a certain moment, a doctor will determine that my brain has ceased to function and that for all intents
And purposes, my life has stopped.

When that happens, do not attempt to instill artificial life into my Body by the use of a machine.
And don't call this my death bed.
Let it be called the Bed of Life, and let my body be Taken from it to help others lead fuller lives.

Give my sight to the man who has never seen a sunrise,
A baby's face or love in the eyes of a woman.
Give my heart to a person whose own heart
Has caused nothing but endless days of pain.

Give my blood to a teenager who was pulled from the wreckage
Of his car so that he might live to see his grandchildren play.

Give my kidneys to one who depends on a machine to exist
From week to week.
Take my bones, every muscle, every fiber and
Nerve in my body and find a way to make a crippled child walk.

Explore every corner of my brain. Take my cells,
If necessary, and let them grow so that someday, a speechless boy will shout at the crack of a bat and a deaf girl will hear
The sound of rain against her window.

Burn what is left of me and scatter
The ashes to the winds to help flowers grow.
If you must bury something, let it be my faults,
My weaknesses and all prejudice against my fellow man.
Give my sins to the devil.
Give my soul to God.

If by chance you wish to remember me, do it with
A kind deed or a word to someone who needs you.
If you do all I have asked, I will live forever.

- Robert N. Test

Joyce leaves behind a loving family and the love of her life, Bob Peterson, to cherish her memory.

In accordance with her wishes, Joyce's body has been donated to medical science in the hope of the furtherance of education and the eventual discovery of cures to, as of yet, incurable diseases.
