“ I have to many memories of Lil Larry to start to share here. Just the other day we were texting about ol' Haggard. LOL he loved his music you better live to hear it when you were with him. Larry has been my brother in law since I was 16 and he was 11 years old. I've watched him grow. The man would literally give you the shirt off his back, his last dollar, his last bite to eat to make sure to help a soul in need. Of course, don't get on that red head fire side though, that was his Momma's side through and through. Both sides of Larry were like his Momma though. He is with her now. His hands aren't hurting him and he's in a better place with Momma than we are here! Gonna miss you popping your head in and hollering at us bub, gonna miss a WHOLE lot about you. Loved you like my own for almost 30 years! Love you Larry Gene!
